Design your own Christmas star lantern!

In the Philippines, families hang star-shaped lanterns called parols in their windows. Parols were traditionally made from bamboo and paper. Now it's your turn! Draw your own star lantern in the big box.

Think about

- How many points will your star have?
- Will it have tails, a pattern or a picture?
- What colours will make it glow?

Talk About It

Which special days does your family celebrate? How do you celebrate them?

Teaching Guide

This passport takes children aged 4 to 8 on a trip to twelve countries, to discover how Christmas is celebrated around the world. Inside, you'll find a passport cover, two stamp pages, a trip map, a same-and-different sort with picture cards and an Art Challenge. Use it alongside our free guide, Christmas Around the World for Kids, which has everything you need to read aloud at each stop.

How to use it

- One session (30 to 45 minutes): read the introduction together, then choose four contrasting stops, such as Sweden, Ethiopia, Mexico and Australia, each on a different continent. Children colour a stamp at each stop and finish by tracing the route on the map.
- Two sessions: spend the first on the gift-bringer stops (Germany, Austria, Italy, the UK, Iceland, Canada and the USA) and the second on the light and food stops (Ethiopia, Sweden, Mexico, the Philippines and Australia), finishing with the same-and-different sort and the star lantern Art Challenge.
- Printing tips: everything prints well in black and white. The picture cards last longer printed on card, and the map is a landscape page, so let your printer turn it.

Answers: same-and-different sort

There is more than one right answer. Here is one way to sort the cards:

Gift-bringers	Lights in the dark	Food to share
St Nicholas boot (Germany)	Parol lantern (The Philippines)	Doro wat with injera (Ethiopia)
La Befana (Italy)	Lucia's crown (Sweden)	Star piñata (Mexico)
Letter to Santa (Canada)	Carols by Candlelight (Australia)	Mince pies (The UK)

Some cards fit in two boxes: Lucia's crown could go with food to share, because Lucia often carries a tray of saffron buns, and the mince pies could join the gift-bringers, because children leave one out for Father Christmas. Accept any answer a child can explain.

Answers: trip map

The stops in order are 1 Germany, 2 Austria, 3 Italy, 4 Ethiopia, 5 Sweden, 6 the UK, 7 Iceland, 8 Canada, 9 the USA, 10 Mexico, 11 the Philippines and 12 Australia. The route crosses the Atlantic Ocean between stops 7 and 8 and the Pacific Ocean between stops 10 and 11. The five oceans are the Pacific, Atlantic, Indian, Arctic and Southern Oceans.

Continents: the trip visits five of the seven continents: Europe, Africa, North America, Asia and Oceania, which includes Australia. Ask children which two it misses (South America and Antarctica).

Talking point: Australia is the only stop south of the equator, so Christmas there comes in summer, while children in Germany, Austria, Sweden and Iceland are wrapped up for winter.

Spot the dates: the Philippines stamp shows the longest Christmas, from September to January, and Ethiopia's shows the latest, on 7 January. Which stamps share a date? Germany, Iceland and the USA all show 24 December, and the UK, Canada and Australia all show 25 December.

Talking about Santa and the other gift-bringers

Children may notice that different countries have different gift-bringers, who visit on different nights. Talk about what families do: "Many children in Italy hang up a stocking for La Befana" works for every child, whatever their family believes. If a child asks whether a gift-bringer is real, "What do you think?" keeps the conversation open without deciding for anyone. If Krampus worries anyone, focus on the costumes, bells and parades: he's a character people dress up as, and St Nicholas always comes too.

If you don't mark Christmas

The passport works without presents, costumes or letters to Santa, so you can use it as a festivals-around-the-world lesson. Inviting children to share how their own family celebrates special days makes it richer for everyone.

Words to know

Advent: the weeks of waiting and getting ready before Christmas.

cracker: a paper tube with a treat inside that goes bang when two people pull it.

Epiphany: 6 January, when Christians remember the Three Kings visiting baby Jesus.

equator: an imaginary line around the middle of the Earth.

Genna: Christmas in Ethiopia, celebrated on 7 January.

injera: a soft, spongy flatbread from Ethiopia, eaten with stews like doro wat.

Krampus: a shaggy, horned character who goes out with St Nicholas in Austria on 5 December.

parol: a star-shaped Christmas lantern from the Philippines.

pavlova: a meringue dessert piled high with cream and fresh fruit.

piñata: a paper shape filled with treats that children break open at a party.

posada: the Spanish word for an inn, or a place to stay.

postcode: letters and numbers that help the post reach the right address.

procession: a line of people walking slowly together, often singing.

saffron: a golden spice that makes Lucia buns yellow.

Simbang Gabi: nine special Masses held at dawn, from 16 to 24 December.

Yule Lads: 13 cheeky characters who leave little gifts in Icelandic children's shoes before Christmas.

Extension ideas

- Say Merry Christmas: try Frohe Weihnachten (Germany and Austria), Buon Natale (Italy), Melkam Genna (Ethiopia), God jul (Sweden), Gleðileg jól (Iceland), Feliz Navidad (Mexico) and Maligayang Pasko (the Philippines).
- Book Flood afternoon: swap favourite books and read together with a warm drink, like families in Iceland on Christmas Eve.
- Paper star lanterns: decorate a paper star with tissue-paper tails and hang it in the window, like a parol.
- Summer or winter? Sort the stops into hot and cold Christmases, then talk about what you would wear at each one.
